USBORNE
Be Curious.

Dear Bookseller,

My dad, Peter Usborne, founded Usborne when I was very young to create irresistible books that would spark children's curiosity and help them to understand the world around them. Whilst we still miss him every day, I am proud that Usborne continues to publish books that he would have been very proud of. Dad often said that children's books should be 'good enough to eat' and often playfully bit into a book to make this point. Our 2025 list is packed full of delicious books.

Our much-loved, globally bestselling baby book brand THAT'S NOT MY...™ is expanding into new formats, with four new activity books and a new combination of touchy-feely-plus-sounds in That's not my zoo...

We first published our iconic Usborne puzzle books in 1984, and in 2025 we're going back to our roots with new Puzzle Adventures, including the Agent Arthur books which we are republishing for a new generation to enjoy.

Making knowledge irresistible is in our DNA at Usborne. In a world of contactless payments, bitcoins and NFTs we take on the challenge of explaining money to children in How it Works: Money (essential reading for grown-ups, too!).

Our thriving fiction list continues to expand, with more fantastic stories to transport readers to other worlds and build vital empathy skills. Highlights for 2025 include Pia's Pet Club, a new illustrated series for young readers by Serena Patel, illustrated by Emma McCann (Anisha, Accidental Detective) and Mondays are Murder by Ravena Guron, a new YA murder mystery from the bestselling author of This Book Kills.

As a children's specialist we are passionate about publishing all sorts of books for all sorts of children. I hope that this catalogue will help you to continue to get the perfect book into the hands of every reader that you meet.
